Overview

- Different kinds of users interact with smart cities
  - IT managers
  - Employees
  - Residents
  - Visitors
- Each type of user has different goals and abilities
- Different interfaces are appropriate for different types of users
- Less expert, occasional, and novice users benefit from intelligent interfaces like chatbots and voice assistants